

JEAN R. TROPNAS

MULTIMEDIA DESIGNER. DEVELOPER. PROGRAMMER. ANIMATOR. ARTIST.

SUMMARY

I was in college when the WWW was first introduced to the world. Back then we thought America Online was groundbreaking and 56k was fast! We had no idea it would evolve into the huge infrastructure it is today. As the web has grown, so have I. Over the years I've learned how to read, write and program the languages that create websites, social media, online advertisements, web apps, all kinds of new multimedia. How to build complex animations, videos, or just things that look cool on your screen. I am old enough to remember before this technology was around, yet young enough to have developed and learned with its evolution.
